

Huntington University

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

Sessional Instructor

ON CAMPUS

(Spring 2012)

GERO 3207 E01
Health Challenges in Aging

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course examines perceptions of aging held by the elderly, family, health professionals and community; physical and psychosocial changes; health, health promotion and maintenance, and healthcare policy in relation to quality of life. Students have contact with healthy elderly persons in the community. Class time includes lectures, the use of case studies and student presentations. In seminars, the multidisciplinary group, from its diverse experiences, identifies the issues arising from the interplay between the elderly and society at large. (3 CR)

QUALIFICATIONS:

- PhD in gerontology or related field;
- significant experience in the area of gerontology;
- teaching experience at the university level.

APPLICATIONS MUST INCLUDE:

- a detailed cover letter explaining qualifications as they relate directly to the position;
- an up-to-date curriculum vitae;
- three academic letters of reference speaking specifically to the position

Note: reference letters currently on file will not be accepted

APPLICATION DEADLINE:

Friday, March 2, 2012 at 4:00 PM

NOTE:

Application packages must be sent on or before the deadline to:

Karen McBain
Huntington University
935 Ramsey Lake Road
Sudbury, ON P3E 2C6 or,
705-673-6031 (fax)

Successful candidate will be notified by March 15, 2012